

DISABILITY ACCESS

INCLUDE US ALL!

SMALL RAMP OR LOW ENTRY
TO ROADS AND BRIDGES
KEEPS ME IN MY CHAIR
AND DOES NOT SCRATCH
MY STUMP !

CARS PARKED ON FOOTPATH PREVENT ACCESS

MOTOR BIKES SHOULD RESPECT WHEELCHAIR RIDERS

HOLES IN THE ROAD ARE DIFFICULT!

PUBLIC TRANSPORT

Allow wheelchair rider to enter the bus.
Stow the wheelchair away for him/her.

PUBLIC PARKING

Make sure there is a space for wheelchairs between the motorbikes.
On public roads reserve a parking place for people with disability.

SIEM REAP AIRPORT

Very good service for wheelchair users.

ANGKOR AREA GOOD TOILETS

Is the toilet door wide enough for a wheelchair?

Is there space to to turn around ?
and close the door.

Some hints

Clear sign and directions

light switch good height

No block to entrance

Rails helps too !

AT HOME

Design a low cost home suitable for people with disability. Contact jrscambodia@gmail.com with your ideas.

HOUSE NEEDS RAMP, AND WIDE ENOUGH DOOR, PEOPLE LIKE TO USE THEIR WHEELCHAIRS INSIDE.

OUR METTA KARUNA TEAM ON DISABILITY ACCESS

Born in Site 2 refugee camp, So Not, is multimedia and communications leader for JRS. His skills include photography, animation, video editing, art and music. He wears an artificial leg.

Tun Channareth is an outspoken advocate for peace, disarmament and justice for the victims of war and poverty. An international Ambassador for the campaign to ban landmines he leads the outreach to People with Disability programme of JRS.

Chan Men is a member of the Survivors Network Project and has entered data for 4000 survivors in a data base which is the background of the book "I am happy I am Alive" published by the team. He lost his leg to an explosive remnant of war as a small boy.

Thy Dara who loves art and song, produced a book on district wide disability services throughout Cambodia and works also in outreach and data base entry and analysis. From birth he has been challenged by missing or unformed limbs. Later he was blinded by a weapon of war.

Pros PheaReth (Finance) and Sak Sopheak (Data base creator and IT Specialist) both accompany serve and advocate for people with disability, and work to ban landmines and cluster munitions..

BAN LANDMINES AND CLUSTER MUNITIONS EVERYWHERE
CLEAR THE LAND.
HELP THE SURVIVORS.
